

Laparoscopic shaving for deep endometriosis nodule

Abstract ID : 2595

Submitted by : Jean-Philippe Estrade the 2017-03-08 11:58:14

Category : LATE-BREAKING ABSTRACTS

Typology : Video

Status : Validated

Authorisation to disclose : Yes/Oui

The deep endometriosis remains and will remain a benign pathology although its implications may be significant for patients. In case of rectovaginal nodule different approaches exist: non conservative by rectal excision or conservative by rectal shaving. Depending of location, infiltration, and previous surgery a conservative treatment must be proposed in majority of cases. This video shows one of the methods to perform rectal shaving and partial colectomy for deep rectovaginal nodule of endometriosis by laparoscopy.

Keywords :

Authors :

References : , , ,

Authors

Jean-Philippe Estrade 1,

1. Gynecomarseille, Marseille, FRANCE

Authors (raw format)

Estrade Jean-Philippe - email : jeanphilippeestrade@me.com Institution : Gynecomarseille Department : City : Marseille
Country : FRANCE Speaker : Yes

